As we complete the semester, here is the final schedule for presentations. Note that each team will make three presentations, each progressively more polished and professional. Presentations should be limited to 15 minutes, including a few minutes for Q&A. So shoot for 12 minutes. Please have no more than about 20 slides.

Papers: they are due in the last class period, Dec 5, and should look and feel like our collective paper. Please use that document as a template. Draft papers, however incomplete, are welcome at any time, even multiple times. I leave it to you to work that out, but I must see at least one draft. The draft can be as complete or incomplete as you wish, but it must have a complete outline and placeholders, so that you always know where the argument is going, and I can assess it.

Week 13. Nov 12, 14. Continued work on our Op-Eds about policing in Charlotte.

Week 14. Nov 19. Group projects and working in class.

- Research progress and consulting in class. (Monday)
- (No Class on Nov 21, Happy Thanksgiving!)

Week 15. Nov 26, 28. Final Projects I.
