

If You Had to Evacuate Your Home Today What Would You Do?

Nine in 10 Americans say they would likely use local and regional road systems if faced with an emergency evacuation. That's according to a recent national survey conducted by Zogby International.

So it should be no surprise that 84 percent of Americans agree "strong investment in highways, bridges and mass transit should be considered as an important element in homeland security and national defense."

Whether it's mobilizing for emergency response or national defense, America's surface transportation infrastructure plays a critical role!
